Enhanced S&P Program Description

Diamond Capital Enhanced S&P Program (ESP)

Trading Methodology

The Enhanced S&P Program (ESP) is a trend following system enhanced with an option overlay.

Trend-Following System

This system utilizes a computerized technical trend-following strategy with various levels of money management techniques. The principal objective is to profit from sustained futures price trends. Trend following is a method of trading which seeks to establish and maintain market positions based on major price movements.

The system first determines whether the S&P market is in a bull or bear trend, then trades with the trend until stopped out. A stop would occur when the S&P moves out of the current trend but has not yet entered into the opposite trend. Within the Trend Following System, proprietary short-term counter-trend signals may be used to exit the current position, create a neutral position, or trade against the trend on a short-term basis.

Premium Capture System

To enhance and balance returns within this program, DCM will also write covered and/or uncovered options to capture premiums and increase the potential profits. (Option positions may also increase the risk of market exposure from time to time.) Each month puts and calls that meet risk parameters will be written – the goal being to capture the premium either by letting the written options expire or by purchasing them back at lower price.

The Volatility Index (also known as the VIX) will be used to determine the number of options to sell and what strike prices to be utilized. Strict risk controls will be in place to limit the downside risks and achieve a desirable risk/reward ratio.

Investment in this strategy is speculative and involves a high degree of risk, including potential unlimited risk of loss associated with uncovered option writing. There can be no assurance that DCM's investment objective will be achieved, and investment results may vary significantly year to year.
